

Biography of Molly Fallon

Molly Fallon started her career in health insurance at the local Blue Cross Blue Shield in Baltimore, MD. She joined LIBRA (formerly LifeMark Partners) in 2012 as a compensation specialist. She has held numerous roles in her time with LIBRA and has helped guide the company through two mergers to become the largest independently owned IMO in the country. Molly is currently the Vice President of Finance at LIBRA Insurance Partners. She prides herself on accurate and efficient reporting, both internally and externally.

Molly is a graduate of Towson University's MBA program where she specialized in accounting, and she also earned her Bachelor of Science in Business Administration from Stevenson University. She currently resides in Towson, MD with her husband and twin boys.